We presume the "hoys" will not be disposed to complain of mosquitous, gnats, etc., which infest this locality, after suffering from the assaults of the "Propeller Fly:"

"Within the last week I have discovered a new kind of insect-I call it the Propeller Fly. It is not as large as one f our Yankee mosquitoes, but you ought to see and feel them hite. They light on you, raise their hind end-standing on their fore legs-and commence turning around. Their bill is like a cork screw, and when they get it in the right place they start the machinery by advancing the right fore leg. They then work a propeller wheel, which is, of course, at the stern, and around they go like lightcannot pull them off without unscrewing them."

Johnson and others, of the 28th Kentucky, taken prisoners Col. Johnson as we learn from Ben. Spalding, was released on parole. We are informed by Mr. S. that the guer-rillas burned the public property in the place, but did not rob the bank. When they left there-about 1,100 strong as he thinks-it was said they went to Danville. It is also said they were in Lawrenceburg, and a later rumor reports them at Shelbyville. Gen. Boyle has doubtless taken measures to checkmate them. Theraid in Kentucky can be productive of no good. Guerrilla warfare is of all the most lawless, for while it preys upon the foe it often times dispoils the friend. They move in such small bodies that they cannot possibly divert the force of an enemy from its plans, and in that respect fail to aid the cause they profess to serve. Besides this, when they mark their track with flagrant wrongs, as in the case at Lebanon, it is indefensible. It is shameful; it is criminal. The destruction of public property is an injury to the people of that town alone, and not to the Government, against whom these men are fighting. War has enough of horrors without employing this most savage and unrelenting of all warfare. And we think the people of the State may congratulate themselves when the guerrillas are out of it.

Open Confession.

Ex-Governor Medary, of Ohio, made a speech in defence of the Buchanan and loyd democrats the other day at Columhus, in which he endeavored to defend this party from the charge of treason. He enumerated a number of crimes of which it was not guilty. Among others, he said "they do not steat"—but here, comembering doubtless that the hisory of Mr. Buchanan's administration must be fresh in the minds of his hearers, he felt that he had gone too far, and added, after ly disturbed within the past few days a slight pause and in a lower tone—'any by a guerrilla raid headed by John more than is incident to imperfect by more than is incident to imperfect hu-

Seconsionists in Washington.

The rebel sympathizers in Washington have been especially bold and impudent within a few days past, on the strength of lying reports concerning federal disasters before Richmond. At a picnic excursion three times three cheers were given for Jeff. Davis. The daughters of a chief clerk in one of the departments were present, wearing resetts of the rebel style. There are yet rebel sympathizers in the public offices. In one of the departments it was proposed the other day that each clerk should pay one dollar a month for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers in the city. An old Democrat, who held a fat office, replied that "he had no money to spend for such a purpose." The facts were duly ascertained and proved, and the next day the head of the department informed him that "he had no money to give to such a man - a man who has no sympathy for wounded soldiers." The result was that a semi-traitor lost a good place, and a
